As well as the websites above please continue to have books/ comics and online stories with your child encouraging them to read any words they can or spot any tricky words.

Dictate sentences for your child to write using words that contain the sounds (all on the sound mats) from their phonic phase. In school we encourage children to read alien words these are made up words that contain the sounds from their phonic phase, this encourages children to apply their phonic knowledge and not read from memory.
